Superbas Bury the Clevelands and Philadelphias Pass the Champions Who Win

and Lose Again with Louisville-New Yorks Capture a Double Header-Notes. The Brooklyns enjoyed a walkover again yesterday in their encounter with the Cleve-lands and thereby increased their lead to 42 points. The Bostons, however, are no longer second, as they split even on another double header with the Louisvilles and were passed by the Philadelphias who found the St. Louis players to be rather easy marks. The Balti-mores also scored a one-sided victory over the Chicagos and are but 12 points behind the champions. The New Yorks, wonderful to relate, took two games from the Cincinnatis, she have fallen off greatly in play since making their fine record against the Bostons and Brooklyns. While the Brooklyns enjoyed an old-fashtoned picnic at the expense of the Clevelands at Washington Park yesterday, the game was noteworthy because of the re-markable exhibition of heavy batting by the home team, together with the first ap-pearance here of Hugh Jennings on first base and left-handed pitcher Hill in the box. It was at the beginning of the seventh inning that Jennings and Hill got into harness and both were enthusiastically received. Jennings handled haif a dozen thrown balls in splendid style, thereby showing that he is ready to begin work permanently at that corner of the diamend. Only two safe hits were made off

Hill, who had plenty of speed and good control. Two left-handers occupied the box for the Clevelands. The first was the much talked of Schmidt, who was so wild and ineffective in the first wo innings that he was taken out in favor of Cauliflower. The latter probably never experienced such rough treatment before. The climax came in the seventh when bathen, who played another great game, kneeked out a home run with two men on bases. Some crank in the left field bleachers raised a laugh then by throwing a small pumpkin into the diamond, which was handled by the Cievelands just long enough to keep up the fun. In addition to their terrific hatting, the Brooklyns played perfectly in the field. Casey showed a big improvement at third, while Dahlen and Dally were everywhere. Daly led in stick work with four hard drives, Mctairie being close behind withthree. Harley and Lock head did commendable work, considering the bombardment, but the other members of the visiting team suffered from what appeared to be blind staggers at different periods. Up to the time of his retirement, Jack lump pitched with his usual art and skill, the Clevelands getting but three safe hits. The Schmidt who was so wild and ineffective in

NEW YORK, 13; CINCINNATI, 4-FIRST GAME. In no game played this season at the Polo Grounds have the spectators shouted so many encouraging words to the New York players as was done in the "double-header" yesterday with the Cincinnati. Fully 3,500 persons were present. Gleason's men made more than the necessary fielding blunders in the first contest to lose an ordinary game, but it was their heavy batting that pulled them through. The onlookers fairly bubbled over with excitement when the New Yorks sent seven men across the plate in the sixth inning, thereby clinching the victory. After throwing poorly to second base in the second inning, Warner retired from the game. As Wilson was at short in place of Davis, who is nursing a sore finger, and Grady was holding down third, Capt. Gleason found himself without a regular catcher. Doyle was sent in behind the bat and without any practise held both pitchers with only one passed ball. This change brought Hardesty in the game. The ex-Newark outfielder showed un well at first, but he has a failing of hitting at the ball at trifte too late. The score: NEW YORK, 13: CINCINNATI, 4-FIRST GAME,

The second 'go" was the re-playing of the game of Decoration Day afternoon, which was won by the New Yorks by a score of 7 to 5, and afterward thrown out of the record owing to a wrong decision by umpire Gaffney. While the New Yorks did not hit Taylor as hard as they did Hawley or Phillips in the first game, still the Staten Island man had to work like a Trojan throughout the contest. It was after the Cincinnatis had tied the score in the third inning that the local players made Jack feel uncomfortable. Singles by O'Brien, Grady and Gleason, Wilson's sacrifice and Foster's three bagger sending home three men. Yan Haiten played with a vim and dash that was astonishing. The score:

reach of Brooklynites."

When Manager Hanlon's attention was called yesterday to the fact that President Soden of the Boston Club had protested one of the Brooklyn-Louisville games played at Washington Park last Saturday, he said:—"What right has Soden to protest any such game? It was played here because it was postponed in Louisville on account of wet grounds. We adhered strictly to the rules. The extra games being played by the Louisvilles in Boston now were also postponed for the same reason as ours. so where does Soden's protest come in anyway? It's absurd, the whole business."

H. George Lytton, a well-known young clubman of Chicago, has been matched to box "Kid" McCoy at a stag show, to be held at the Griddle Club. Chicago, next Saturday night. They are to box three friendly rounds, but it is expected that more than mere love taps will be exchanged. Lytton weighs 200 pounds, and is said to be clever.

Billy Joh, the former amateur who has not been before the public in some time, wants to court fame in the ring again. Joh has an excellent record and his manager. Arthur Howard, thinks he is good enough just now to cope with any man weighing 118 pounds. Joh has met Martin Flaherty, Tommy White and spike Sullivan. The latter beat him in three rounds. James McGowan, manager of Ed Darrell, the colored Australian lightweight, who defeated two men last Monday night at the National A. C., called at The Sun office yesterday afternoon and said that Darrell was ready to fight any 138 pounder. Darrell is now practically matched to fight Frank Carroll at the Westensester A. A new athletic club in opposition to the National Sporting Club is soon to be started in London. The building, which has already been secured, is situated in the east of London at the foot of Kingsiand Road, near Shoreditch Church. The intention is to hold boxing events every Wednesday. An effort will be made to have Americans box at the club. It is also said that W. A. Brady is interested in the venture.

TOM LINTON FORSAKES THE N. C. A.

FOR THE L. A. W. Runs and Races of the Annual Meet at Boston-President Keenan Praises the Hub Consulate and Outlines the League Status. Boston, Aug. 17.-The sensation of the day in L. A. W. circles was the announcement this morning that Tom Linton, the Welsh middledistance racing man, had forsaken the ranks of the N. C. A. and had been reinstated in the L.A. W. Linton rode at Waltham Tuesday under the auspices of the N. C. A. and made a world's record. Yesterday he and his trainer, Dudley Marks, asked the racing board of the L. A. W for hearing in their case. The Board held a special session in the evening, lasting several hours, and as a result Linton's reinstatement was announced to-day. He will ride a ten-mile paced race at the Charles River track tomorrow under L. A. W. auspices,

At the meeting of the National Assembly of local consuls at the Old Colonial Club house this morning President Keenan said that the League had not lost any ground in the racing game, praised the Boston consulate as the best in the country, because of its perfect organization and briefly outlined the status of the League. All the runs to-day were well attended and an improvement over yesterday was noted in the crowd at the races. This evening there was a run through the suburbs followed by a "stag smoker" and entertainment in Mechanics' Building. To-morrow will be devoted almost entirely to runs with races at the Charles River track in the evening, been seen in this country, marked the second day's card of the meet to-day, and although the crowd was not as large as the quality of the racing deserved, Charles River Park was fairly well filled. All of the finals and most of trial beats were decided by inches only. In two of the races a blanket could have covered all of the men at the finish, making a decision for honors especially hard for the Judges.

The five mile championship professional was one of the prettiest races ever seen on the track. Owing to some rather questionable work in the preliminary heats Major Taylor, the colored phenom was shut out of the finals. Taylor was to blame for not jumping the bunch when a question of the fastest was to decide the ovent, but he was certainly pocketed and shut out form winning. Wateon Coleman won a deserved victory in the final heat for the game manner in which he raced to the tape. The only foreign professional G. Courbe Ourrelon was badly outclassed.

All of the low mark men were frozen out in the final of the other professional events, the mile handicap, including Taylor and Nat. Frank and Tom Butler. J. Bowier of Chicago won the event from the forty-yard mark.

Two national championships were decided in the amateur events, the two mile and the half mile. Of the foreign riders but one man, Caldow, the Seotchman, got into the final, and he failed to get a show in the deciding heat, owing to a mix-up in which several riders went down, due to an attempt to cut in by Stepenson, the one-armed rider from Detroit.

Three Americans and two foreigners qualified for the final heat in the one-half mile championship: Moran but he fouled Goodson in the stretch and won distingtingtingtingtingtingtingtingting the professional developed into a plan to freeze out Major Taylor from the finals. The race was run in three preliminary and one final heat. The conditions provided that the first two men in the two trial heats and oould not qualify. A New York bleyele rider, returning from Coney Island, reached the Brooklyn side of the Twenty-third street Ferry a few nights ago at a time when there was a line of trucks and wagons wairing. He had to stop and buy tickets for himself and wheel at the gate while the wagons and trucks were filing down the ferry-ship to the boat. He could not afford to take a chance passing any of the wagons in order to get to the front, so he waited until all were accound. Then he led his wheel on to the boat and piaced it against a post. A minute of reflection and he realized that if, when the other side was reached, be waited to the boat first he would have to waik and lead his wheel a block up along East Twenty-third street and paor as it is, he decaded he would rater ride the distance. He took his wheel by the head with one hand and proceeded to lead it through the ca

Church. The intention is to hold boxing events every Wednesday. An effort will be made to have Americans box at the club. It is also said that W. A. Brady is interested in the venture.

Football Notes.

The New York University football schedule is as follows: Oct. 14. Syracuse University at Syracuse 18. Columbia at New York; 21. Hamilton at Clinton; 28. Lebigh at South Bethlohem; Nov. 4. Trinity at Hartford; 11. Rutgers at New Brunnwick; 18. Stavens at Ohio Field; 25. Hamilton at Ohio Field.

The Centenary Collegiate Institute, of Hackettstown, has arranged a partial sahedule of games. The dates of Oct. 14. 21, and Nov. 4 have been filled, but Manager A. F. Chamberlain would like to hear from Lawrenceville, Newark Academy, St. Paul's. Pratt Institute and Yonkers High School. The season at Hackstatown promises well. Eight of last years players will return, leaving only three positions to be filled.

The Warron Field Club of Brooklyn would like to arrange Sunday games with all soams having their own grounds, and averaging from 125 to 130 pounds, the following preferred; St. Nicholas, of New York; Rivington A. C. of Hoboken: Highwood A. C. of Hauxhurst Park: Suburbans, of Brooklyn; Gregorys, of New York; Elix, of Harlem: Franklins, of Brooklyn; Gregorys, of Hooklyn; Monitors, of New York; Elix, of Harlem: Franklins, of Astoria; and the Bramhalls, of Jersey, Address Joseph B, Hagan, 105 Warren st., Brooklyn.

an hour which is about one-half the average speed, and keep their bell sounding by astroke as often as they turned their pedals. The law restraits of some very nice interpretation also because of the use of the phrase "unavoidably absent from home without a light." The arrest of a few of those now abusing the law would result in its being quickly shown that they were not in avoidably out without alight. President Simm's of the Associated Clubs, said that he never had approved of the no light clause inthe law, because he believed that every vehicle should be compelled to carry a light. Others who spoke expressed the same sentiment and there seemed to be an idea that the lamp ordinance could be enforced pretty much as it formerly was if the police choose to do it. The association finally put itself on record by adopting the following resolution:

That it is the sense of this association that all bicycles should after nightfall carry lighted ismpa and that the Committee on Rights of Wheelmen and Legislation be directed to confer with the Chief of Police and request him to strictly enforce the provisions of the law.

NOTES.

The first annual meet of the White Plains Wheelmen will be held on the half-mile track of the Westchester County Horse Show Association on Sept. 1st. This will be the only bicycle meet of the year in Westchester County, and also the pioneer N. C. A. meet in the county, The events will consist of a one-mile novice, one-mile county championship, one-mile handicap open, five-mile team pursuit race for county teams only, two-mile handicap open, a motor exhibation for county records, and one processional event. Entries close Sept. 13, with L. E. Holden, 35 Warren street, New York City.

Chacornac, a Futurity Candidate, Wins

Saratoga, Aug. 17.-With the Mumm Handicap for two-year-olds, a race for non-profes sional riders, and a steeplechase over the full course as the leading attractions, the attendance at the track this afternoon broke all records. Favorites again ran poorly, only two of them being returned winners. The first race was for maiden two-year-olds, and the public received their first chance to see Jimmy Rowe's Futurity candidate, Chacornac. He opened and closed a hot favorite, as every one got the tip, and during the race never gave his backers a chance to be uneasy. Going to the front right after the flag fell he remained there o the finish, and won, pulled up, from Cobourg. Chacornae is a handsome bay gelding, by Juvenal-Letitia, and looks and races like a good one. For winning to-day he will have to pick up ten pounds more in the Futurity.

Only four ran in the second race, which went to Jinks, running two lengths in front and after making all the running beat the favorite, Firsarm, aided by O'Leary's poor riding, out by two lengths. For impudence to Starter Byrnes at the post in this race, Clawson was set down for two days. Buela, ridden by her owner. Sydney Paget, and favorite for the third race, led all the way and won easily by three lengths from Sir Hubert. Buela fouled Sir Hubert badly on the far turn, but the latter's rider, Hard Smith, refused to lodge a protest of foul when requested to lodge a protest of foul when requested to do so. F. D. Beard, owner of the horse, did, however, but it was done too late. Toddy was the favorite for the Mumm Handleap, but finished fourth. The Fleischmann coit Sakhrat won in a drive by two lengths from King's Courier. Wood Pigeon won the steeplechase easily. Summary:

L. H. Shortemeir, C. F. Dudley and Charles Shields divided the honors between them yesterday afternoon when a number of members of the Hudson Gun Club gathered at the club grounds, Bockaway Beach, and enjoyed quite a little practice at smashing clay birds. The men named either secured or divided first money in eleven sweepstakes, with ten birds per man.

Outlook for the Championship of the West -Deal Beach Results. It is in the cluster of clubs about Chicago in which the chief strength lies of the Western Golf Association, although the first annual championship, to be held on Sept. 6, 7, 8 and P, at the Gienview Golf and Polo Club, is open to the members of all clubs within 500 miles of that city. Milwaukee. Detroit, Cleveland, Cincinnati and St. Louis will each send one or nore representatives, but the majority of the entries and the best players will hall from Chleago. The Glenview course, on which the event is to be held, is undoubtedly the best aid out in the West.

The distance is about 5,500 yards and the far score an S1. A river crosses no less than seven of the holes, but the carry in each instance is a fair one. The turf is uniformly good and the natural hazards calculated to bring out a good game. The Wheaton course of the Chicago Golf Club, originally prairie land, is longer in aggregate distance, but, while the lies are good, the flatness of the links makes the play somewhat monotonous. Onmentsia, except for the terraced fifteenth green which is too close to the bunker, and the artificial right-angle hole, is a true championship course. To carry out the over 6,000 yards, has grand turf, but many think the scheme of hazards not of the best. But by changing the tees this state of things may be readily altered. The Westward Ho links, the home course of Miss J. Anna Car-penter, the girl phenomenon in golf, although inks, the home course of Miss J. Anna Carpenter, the girl phenomenon in golf, although of eighteen holes, is too rough. An Eastern player claims that he lost a ball here on one of the putting greens. The Riverside and Skokie links, each of nine holes and the latter over 3,000 yards, are fine golfing grounds, but the Edgewater course is short and narrow. In the city proper, the nine-hole course of the Washington Park Golf Club, laid out on the inner field of the racecourse, is a very good one, and the club house in its cuisine and appointments is regarded as the best about Chicago.

From these links, and the courses at Evanston, Kenilworth, River Forest, Hinsdale, Belmont and Bryn Mawr, a very creditable array of senior and junior players can be mustered and there is sure to be a large entry for the championship tournament. The first day of the meeting, Sept. 6, will be devoted to the open championship, at thirty-six holes, medal play, an event the professionals in the West intend to boycott, also at least $400 is offered in prize money. The real interest will rest in the qualifying round, at eighteen holes, medal play, on the morning of Sept. 7, and in the succeeding match play rounds between the first sixteen, for the title of Western amatuer champion. The American-born player who makes the best score in the qualifying round will receive a special cup. The meeting should advance the interest in golfing in the territory covered.

There were twenty-three starters in the qualifying round for the women's championship cup at the Deal Golf Club on Wednesday. The four to qualify, with their scores for eighteen holes, were Miss M. Murphy, 126; Miss V. Murphy, 126; Miss C. F. Brice, 135, and Miss Anna Barbour, 138. The four next best scores, which gained elegibility for the consolution nrize, were Miss Helen Bray, 148; Miss Helen Roiston, 151; Miss Anna Reinhart, 161, and Mrs J. A. Woodland, 184; On the same day the Deal team won from the Spring Lake team by the following score:

went outside to-day for a spin, but they did not get together. They left the narbor at about the same time, 11 o'clock, making slow work beaterly winds. Both carried working topsails, but when outside the Columbia set her club topsail and stood well off shore. There was a heavy swell on and the big boats tossed around, their sails hardly filling. The Defender came into the harber at 2 o'cleek, and later in the day her crew shifted mainsails.

The Columbia remained out until after 4 o'cleek, when she caught a good breeze, and setting her spinnaker came back into the harbor at a lively rate. She will go to Bristol either to-morrow or Saturday, where, besides receiving another steel mast, there is much to be done to her.
